Conditions of Sale

1. Rejection of Bids. Any bid which is not commensurate with the value of the article offered or which is merely a nominal or fractional advance may be rejected by the auctioneer if in his judgment such bid would be likely to affect the sale injuriously.

2. The Buyer. The highest bidder shall be the buyer, and if any dispute arises between two or more bidders, the auctioneer shall either decide the same or put up for resale the lot so in dispute.

3. Identification and Part Payment by Buyer. The name of the buyer of each lot shall be given immediately on the sale thereof and when so required, each buyer shall sign a card giving the lot number, amount for which sold, and his or her name and address.

Payment at the actual time of the sale shall be made of all or such part of the purchase prices as may be required.

If the two foregoing conditions are not complied with, the lot or lots so purchased may at the option of the auctioneer be put up again and resold.

4. Risk After Purchase. Title passes upon the fall of the auctioneer's hammer and thereafter neither the consignor nor the Association is responsible for the loss or any damage to any article occasioned by theft, fire, breakage or any cause.

5. Delivery of Purchases. Delivery of any purchases will be made only upon payment of the total amount due for all purchases at the sale.

Deliveries will be made at the place of sale or at the storage warehouse to which purchases may have been removed.

Deliveries at the American Art Galleries will be made only between the hours of nine a. m. and one p. m. on sales' days and on other days—except holidays, when no deliveries will be made—between the hours of nine a. m. and five p. m.

Deliveries at places of sale other than the American Art Galleries will be made only during the forenoon following the day of sale unless by special notice or arrangement to the contrary.

Deliveries at the Storage warehouse to which goods may have been sent will be made on any day other than holidays between the hours of nine and five.

Deliveries of any purchases of small articles likely to be lost or mislaid may be made at the discretion of the auctioneer during the session of the sale at which they were sold.

6. Storage in Default of Prompt Payment and Calling for Goods. Articles not paid for in full and either not called for by the purchaser or delivered upon his or her order by noon of the day following that of the sale will be turned over by the Association to some carter to be carried to and stored in some warehouse until the time of the delivery therefrom to the purchaser, and the cost of such cartage and storage will be charged against the purchaser and the risk of loss or damage occasioned by such removal or storage will be upon the purchaser.

NOTE: The limited space of the Delivery Rooms of the Association makes the above requirements necessary, and it is not alone for the benefit of the Association, but also for that of its patrons, whose goods otherwise would have to be so crowded as to be subject to damage and loss.

7. Shipping. Boxing or wrapping of purchases is a business in which the Association is in no wise engaged, and will not be performed by the Association for purchasers. The Association will, however, afford to purchasers every facility for employing at current and reasonable rates carriers and packers; doing so, however, without any assumption of responsibility on its part for the acts and charges of the parties engaged for such service.

8. Guaranty. The Association exercises great care to catalogue every lot correctly and endeavors therein and also at the actual time of sale to point out any error, defect or imperfection, but guaranty is not made either by the owner or the Association of the correctness of the description, genuineness, authenticity or condition of any lot and no sale will be set aside on account of any incorrectness, error of cataloguing or imperfection not noted or pointed out. Every lot is sold "as is" and without recourse.

Every lot is on public exhibition one or more days prior to its sale, and the Association will give consideration to the opinion of any trustworthy expert to the effect that any lot has been incorrectly catalogued and in its judgment may thereafter sell the lot as catalogued or make mention of the opinion of such expert, who thereby will become responsible for such damage as might result were his opinion without foundation.

9. Buying on Order. Buying or bidding by the Association for responsible parties on orders transmitted to it by mail, telegraph or telephone will be faithfully attended to without charge or commission. Any purchases so made will be subject to the foregoing conditions of sale except that in the event of purchases consisting of one or more books for one who has not himself or through his agent been personally at the exhibition or sale, any book may be returned within ten days of the date of sale and will be refunded the purchase money therefor, if the book in any material manner differs from its catalogue description.

Orders for execution by the Association should be written and given with such plainness as to leave no room for misunderstanding. Not only should the lot number be given, but also the title, and bids should be stated to be so much for the lot, and when the lot consists of one or more volumes of books or objects of art, the bid per volume or piece should also be stated. If the one transmitting the order is unknown to the Association, a deposit should be sent or reference submitted. Shipping directions should also be given.

Priced copies of the catalogue of any sale or any session thereof, will be furnished by the Association at charges commensurate with the duties involved in copying the necessary information from the records of the Association.

In the latter, Mr. Woodcock gives a most detailed and interesting account of the secret service work which had been done in spotting Captain William Jones a traitor, "who was engaged in victualing the Lincoln fleet off Pensacola," detailing his various movements, compensation as a coast pilot into Mobile for vengeance.

55. BRANCH (LAWRENCE O. B.—General). Autograph letter, Signed, 4pp. 4to, District of Pamlico, Newbern, January 13, 1862.

He reports that he will never surrender until Newbern has been burned over his head.

A most important historical document giving extensive details regarding the defense of Newbern. Indicates to Governor Clark his actions, describes in detail steps taken for the protection of the North Carolina Coast, censures General Hill, etc.

57. BRANCH (LAWRENCE O. B.—General). Autograph letter, Signed, 2pp. folio, closely written. Headquarters First Division, Kinston, April 2, 1862. To War Governor Clark of North Carolina.

Very important historical document, being a private letter giving important details of the Confederate defeat at the Battle of Newbern, North Carolina. A very interesting letter written from his camp on the Chickahominy River of Virginia regarding casualty lists, refuting the false reports of the Adjutant of Colonel Lee's regiment. In the letter he develops his animosity and non-responsibility to the state, his allegiance being to the Confederate States Government. He shows how depleted his regiments are by hard service and requests filling gaps by conscription, etc.

59. BRANDON (WILLIAM L.—General in the Confederate Army). Autograph Letter, Signed, 4pp. 4to, Arcote Plantation near Fort Adams, Miss., May 7th, 1887. To Miss Lida Thackery.

Evidently a reply to a letter from Miss Thackery asking if he had any original dispatches, regarding which he says that all his records fell into the hands of the enemy in May, 1865. Then follows an account of his career in the Confederate Army during the Civil War.

60. BRATTON (JOHN—Lieutenant of the Confederate States Army, participated in the battles of Williamsburg, Seven Points, etc.). Autograph Letter, Signed, 2pp. 8vo, Camp near Germantown, October 14, 1861. To Colonel Edward Manigault of the Ordnance Department, South Carolina.

61. BRENT (GEORGE W.—Colonel). Autograph Letter, Signed, 2pp. 4to, Confederate States, Headquarters Military Division of the West, Augusta, Georgia, February 4, 1865. To Major Norman W. Smith of Field Transportation.

Most interesting historical document showing to what straits the Confederate States were reduced at this time. On account of lack of funds, certificates only were given and, although coming from Headquarters, the letter admits that the seizure about to be performed is not strictly according to the impressment law. Relates to the impressment of 120 wagons and 480 mules for service between Washington, Georgia and Abbeville, South Carolina from counties of Oglethorpe, Clarke, Greene, Wilkes, and Taliaferro. The order admits that this will annoy and irritate the people, so Smith is to use as much diplomacy as possible. In lieu of payment, the teams are to be returned as soon as possible.

Kindly read the conditions under which every item is offered and sold. They are printed in the forepart of the catalogue.

62. BRISTOW (GEORGE F.). Bristow's Patriotic Concert, in aid of The Volunteer Fund, at the Academy of Music, Saturday, May 25, 1861. [Programme of the Concert.] 4pp. leaflet. [New York, 1861]

Written by a northern soldier, it is a bitter arraignment of the unnecessary delays in mustering men out of service, hundreds leaving without the formality of asking leave or being discharged. He details sufferings of 6th Army Corps in their endurance marches from Westminster, Maryland, to Gettysburg. He bitterly assails the West Point officers whose only idea of a soldier was that they were created to be commanded by them, describes the rioting among the soldiers on account of dissatisfaction and harsh methods pursued by officers in subduing them, etc. Also includes many unpublished anecdotes regarding the men and officers.

In a rather extensive letter which accompanies the manuscript, the author makes a signed statement that everything stated in his manuscript was an actual occurrence and that "there are hundreds of participants yet living who know the truth of what I write."

To Z. B. Vance, Gov. of North Carolina. A most interesting historical document reflecting the spirit of the times and public sentiment in the North toward the South. In it he states that if the South will avoid an attack on the forts, the public feeling in the North will compel Lincoln to keep the peace if the South remains in a defensive attitude, the large majority of Illinois would take up arms against the Republican party if Civil War ensued. "Should the South aggress, it will unite public sentiment in the North and Civil War will ensue. Public sentiment in the North is entirely opposed to coercion." He refers to Governor Magoffin's declaration of neutrality and states that in his opinion the Republicans will be swept from power as by a tornado, which will annihilate their party. The letter further refers to Buckner's efforts to secure arms and ammunition for Kentucky and to other matters.

This letter contains considerable material of historical interest on Kentucky and Illinois.

Primarily the letter tenders General Busteed's resignation, but its chief interest probably lies in its tribute of respect to the kindliness of Abraham Lincoln. Especially is this interesting as coming from a man who had been a great Douglas supporter and one of the bitterest opponents of Lincoln and of Lincoln's policy toward the South, but who after the attack on Fort Sumter changed his views and became a strong supporter of Lincoln.

74. BUSTEED (RICHARD—General). Autograph Letter, Signed, 2pp. 8vo, 237 Broadway, November 22, 1862. Marked "Private."

"Cleveland O. October 28th 1911.

"Messrs The Arthur H. Clark Co.
Publishers.
Gentlemen.
At your request of yesterday I will state that a paper entitled

A Retrospect,

now belonging to you, was written by me about 1893 when I read it in Sections before the Northern Ohio Contingent of the 'Order of the Loyal Legion,' of which I am a member.

"Later, and by request I read it before,

'Memorial Post No. 141 Grand Army of the Republic'

in which I hold membership.

"Both of these Orders offered to publish it at the time it was read, but I hoped to enlarge on the subject, and then give it to the Loyal Legion for publication in their contributions to the literature of the Civil War period; but this was not done.

"Perhaps it is not out of place here, to give a motive for its production.

"Enlisting in October 1861, a farmers son of 22, in Co. A 6th Ohio Cavalry, I had received the impressions of that great writer, Horace Greeley, as set forth in the 'New York Weekly Tribune' on slavery and the state of our Country in general, prior to the year 1861.

"Serving in the Army in Virginia, between three and four years; under Generals Fremont, Sigel, Pope, Kilpatrick, D. McM. Gregg, Sheridan, Meade and Grant; from the Second Bull Run, August 28th 1862, to Appomattox April 9th, 1865; with the rank of Corporal, Sergeant Major, Adjutant, and Captain of Co 'D,' in my regiment, I wrote this paper as a matter of pleasure, for its historic interest to myself, and my soldier companions; covering briefly the action of every state in the Union, through their Governors, or Legislative bodies, as that horrible war precipitated itself on our beloved country, in 1861.—

"Respectfully yours

A. W. Fenton
Late Captain Co. 'D.'
Sixth Ohio Cavalry."

"Personally appeared before me a Notary Public for Cuyahoga Co. and under oath to the foregoing statement.

Two exceedingly interesting historical documents relating to the proclamation of neutrality by Kentucky and the Federal Government's organization of military companies, battalions and regiments in Kentucky for the purpose of invading Tennessee, transporting arms and "aiding and abetting the Federal Government in this wicked war for the purpose of crushing and subjugating the Southern states." The reply covers an account of Governor Magoffin's visit to the military encampments, his interview with the officers and their reports. They say we are in excellent health and spirits with plenty of food and full of enthusiasm for McClellan." "It is all a lie as barefaced and absolute a lie as was ever told. This campaign has proved a most absolute and miserable failure."

He refers to the various fights in which the regiment has been engaged, gives details of the discomforts of the newspaper correspondent, "Fair Oaks was a blunder and its advantages thrown away," "we have made a disastrous retreat," "we have been out-generaled and defeated," etc.

He refers to his mail being intercepted and captured by the Confederates during the retreat from Richmond, etc.
